June Evergreen Camera Club Program presented by ECC Members

Our second annual "Member Show and Tell" was a fantastic showcase of some of our talented members, even though it ran a little long. Six sets of members presented. Tom Goldberg kicked off the night with an overview of our new website (Check it out! It looks great — thanks Tom for all of your efforts). Betty and Doug Holling and Dick Oltman presented amazing photos of ospreys and other birds from their recent Florida adventure. Kathy Snead also showed off her gorgeous wading birds from Florida.

Michael Cahoon enlightened us with his post-processing tips on clipping masks and Connie Rudd, Lorrie McAllister, Donna Dannen and Ellen Nelson gave brief look of the 71st Annual Gilpin Arts Juried show. Go see it in Central City! Lorrie took 2nd place in the photography division.

Loren Winters finished off the presentation portion of the evening with an interesting overview of his light trap and time lapse techniques.

The contest half of the evening began with Ellen's brief explanation of PPA judging criteria, followed by all members weighing in on the contest entries. There were 20 Level 2 bird entries to judge, but Donna's cute owlets (above) were irresistible.
