March and April meetings postponed. A blizzard in March and April forced Evergreen Camera Club to cancel both monthly meetings! April's PSA director Tammy Hammond will speak in August and Joseph Roybal's presentation, "Off the Beaten Path," is scheduled for November. The "Bird" images submitted for the March and April contests do not count as your three entry limit for May and will be judged at the May meeting by Ellen Nelson. The Open category, "Wildlife," will include the March and April entries and will be judged by Amy Johnson in May. If you did not enter "Wildlife" in March or April, you may enter — along with your "Portrait" images (limit 3 total) — until May 6 at 6:00 pm.

May Contest Theme: "Portraits and Pet Portraits"

Open Category: "Wildlife" (identify as captive or wild)

April Evergreen Camera Club T&T Program presented by Connie Rudd and KelbyOne

by Ellen Nelson

We finally had a meeting! After missing March and April due to spring blizzards, Connie Rudd led an informative Tips & Techniques featuring a KelbyOne tutorial video series "Camera Focus Techniques: The Key to Super Sharp Photos," hosted by Larry Becker. The multi-chapter tutorial covered depth of field, focus points, face and object tracking, back button focus and much more.

"The questions asked after the seminar told me that this was a good subject to address," Connie reflected after the meeting. "I hope people in the room came away with new ideas and new approaches."

KelbyOne is a "member's only" online photography instructional service with thousands of classes by expert photographers such as Joe McNally, Moose Peterson and Lindsay Adler, covering subjects including nature, landscape, drone, travel, portrait, business and post processing.

Interested? The May 28th T&T will feature another of the KelbyOne courses: Long Exposure Photography.

And now for the good news: KelbyOne is an ECC member benefit. Members can sign up for a two-week reservation to log in to KelbyOne.com. Email Lorrie to schedule your time. ECC has one log-in for the club, and only one person can be logged in at a time. Courses at the KelbyOne Plus level are also included. Get Learning!
